

The FAA has practiced age discrimination against airline pilots for over 40 years. They established an age rule with no scientific data to back it. They have continued to ignore all reports as to the invalid principle of this rule.